Education

THE IRON YARD POWERED BY SMASHING BOXES | Durham, NC

- Teamed with two Ruby on Rails developers and one other Front End Developer to create Flowerpatch in 2.5 weeks. This project was created for Spoonflower, a custom fabric printing company in Durham, NC. Together we used Agile Development and Trello to collaborate, refine the product, and solve problems. Individually, I handled all the JSONP calls to two API's. My front-end partner and I worked together to handle the UI, UX, JavaScript, jQuery, Snap.svg, SCSS, and Bourbon Neat/Refills for a Ruby on Rails build to create an intuitive, enjoyable user experience.
- Created a hangman game using Javascript and CSS3.
- Collaborated with one Front End student and two Python students to create a mobile to-do list using their API.
- Worked with one Front End Student and two Ruby on Rails students to create a survey-building website.
- Generated a memory match game with CSS3, then added functionality with Javascript and Jquery.
- Created a responsive mobile app to track appointments with jQuery, Moment.js and a Weather API.
- Deployed every project to Github, Github pages, or Heroku.
- Completed each project using HTML5.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE UNIVERSITY | Raleigh, NC

B.A. in Psychology, Minor in Graphic Design

- Graduated Summa Cum Laude with an overall GPA of 3.6/4.0.
- Studied Abroad in Lille, France.
- Mastered my research skills by working in a lab, designing and conducting an experiment with a partner, analyzing and collecting the data, and writing up the results.

Relevant Experience
